

2010 Membership Application Information

The Connecticut Academy of Audiology, Inc. is a non-profit, professional organization of individuals dedicated to providing expert hearing health care to the public. We enhance the ability of our members to achieve career and practice objectives through professional advocacy and development, education, and research, as well as increased public awareness of hearing and balance disorders and audiologic services.

Academy Membership

Membership in the Connecticut Academy of Audiology consists of Fellow, Student, and Professional Affiliate Members. The Academy and its Board of Directors does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, ethnic ancestry, national origin, religion, creed, age, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, medical condition or physical disability.

Fellows: Membership as a Fellow is open to all audiologists who have been awarded at least a master's degree in audiology or the equivalent thereof from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning prior to January 1, 2007 and are licensed to practice audiology. Applicants who have been awarded a degree in audiology after Jan. 1, 2007, must hold a doctoral degree in audiology or the equivalent from a regionally accredited academic institution. Fellows of the Academy have voting rights and may hold an office in the Academy.

Student Members: To qualify as a student member the applicant must be actively enrolled in an audiology graduate program at a regionally accredited institution of higher learning. Student members hold all rights and obligations of Fellow membership, except they shall not vote or hold office. Student membership terminates when all requirements for graduation from the program have been met, at which time, the Student becomes eligible to become to apply as a Fellow of the Academy.

Professional Affiliate Members: A Professional Affiliate Member holds a Master's or Doctoral degree (or equivalent) from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning, and has an active professional interest in hearing, hearing science, or audiology and is not an audiologist or is not otherwise eligible for membership as a Fellow. Affiliate members hold all rights and obligations of regular membership, except they shall not vote or hold office. Affiliated members are prohibited from using affiliation with the Academy for the promotion of commercial products or services.

Annual Dues: Fellow/Professional Affiliate $ 100 Student $ 0

CTAA dues are not deductible as a charitable contribution for federal income tax purposes. CTAA estimates that 6 % of your 2010 membership dues will be allocated to lobbying activities and therefore are not deductible for income tax purposes.
